NONE BUT FARMERS FOR FARMERS UNIONS.

Strong Plea For Restricted Membership in All Farmers Organizations.

In our former communications we have never mentioned the necessity of organization. The farmer like every other branch of trade must keep up with the times, and now let me impress this fact on your mind, that there is but few branches of trade that is worth being called business that is not organized.

Now my comrads can you afford to stand forth and think yourselves buglemen, I can tell you that you are making a mistake. The world is depending on you and you should be able to protect your interests at all times. How can you do this without being organized? All markets are governed by supply and demand.

And now my comrad how do you expect to keep yourself posted without being organized? I think I have heard some one say we are organized. There, let me ask you another question, (but you don't have to answer it) Does your organization meet the requirements of the farmer on the most judicial and economical lines? Is it for the good of the greatest number, or is it feeding the trusts, combines and monopolies? And is it furnishing fat jobs to parties who are not farmers nor never was? Let me say you will not find the above evils in the Farmers co-Operative union.

The first thought should be for any organization to protect itself and members. It has been a life-long saying, that the big fish is always trying to swallow the small one, and we, the farmers, think we have brains enough to manage our affairs without taking in one who is not a farmer. This was the downfall of the Grangers and Wheelers. Could the farmers get in a druggist association? I say no, nor can a farmer be a member of the Bar Association? Therefore the co-Operative union does not admit them, or any one else who is not a farmer. The farmers' interests are identical and the time will come when all will see it, the world over. We have seen the rise and fall of many organizations and the fall in every case was caused by members whose interests were not identical with the order to which they belonged. Our constitution and by laws are yet imperfect. In one place it says farm laborers, when it should say farm renters. A farm laborer may work on the farm this year and next year he will go to the railroad to work or to some other place. Sometimes it is hard enough to control the crop of the renter, as the most of them think they must sell as soon as their crop will do to put on the market, then the union must look after them. The Finance Committee is put after those fellows.

We have just received a letter from Centertown asking for a copy of by laws and constitution. Still they come and there are hundreds who can see that the farmers must have something better and cheaper. Now we hope you will take the Hartford papers and keep posted about the co-operative union. For information about the union, address S. C. Babbitt, Fordsville, Ky., R. F. D. No. 1, box 16. This is going to be the year to raise tobacco. The demand will be good. Don't put out to much.

Miss Juliana Massie Dead.

Miss Juliana Massie, one of the most highly respected ladies of the Bell's Run neighborhood passed away Monday morning at 5 o'clock of consumption, after a lingering illness of several months. She was a charitable and good woman and will be greatly missed in her vicinity. The funeral services took place Tuesday at eleven a.m., at Bell's Run Baptist church and interment in the Bell's Run burying ground.

Muhlenburg's New Court House.

The building committee for the new courthouse last week closed a contract for a clock and bell for the new court house. After figuring with several prominent makers, the contract was awarded to the E. Howard Watch and Clock Co. Realizing the universal wish for a first-class article, a high grade clock was purchased. The dial will be 8 feet in diameter, and the bell will weigh something over 1,000 pounds. It will require about sixty days for the company to make shipment, but the clock will be here in time to be placed before the building is entirely completed. The tower and clock will be the showpiece of the whole building. Cost is $1,500.

The crew of plasterers arrived Monday and are at work on the court house. The men are now rushing the work and there are busy times about court square.—Central City Republican.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, In view of the loss our brother, O. W. Ashby has sustained by the loss of his wife and our friend, Katie Duncan Ashby, and of the still heavier loss sustained by those who were nearest and dearest to her; therefore be it

Resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that in regretting her removal from our midst we mourn for one who was in every way worthy of our respect and regard.

Resolved, That we sincerely condole with our brother and the family of the deceased on the dispensation with which it has pleased Divine Providence to afflict them, and commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best, and whose chastisements are meant in mercy.

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this Lodge be extended to the husband, our brother, and his family in their affliction.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Lodge and a copy thereof be transmitted to our brother, and to the newspapers of the county.

GRASS SEED SOWN OVER PLANT BEDS

In Eastern Part of Daviess County--Also in Hancock County.

The destruction of plant beds by the sowing of grass seeds on them is reported from Scythia in the northeastern portion of Daviess county, a few miles from the Hancock county line, says the Owensboro Messenger. So far only three persons have reported damage. They are Albert McCamish, Will Rowland and George Adams.

The fact that grass seed had been sown on the plant beds was discovered shortly after the depredations were committed. The seeds had not sprouted, and were plainly visible on top of the ground. It was impossible, however, to remove them and the tobacco plants will be ruined unless the grass can be pulled out when it comes up.

The men whose plant beds were sown with grass seeds are not members of the organized tobacco growers. There is no clue to the identity of the persons who perpetrated the outrage.

Across the Hancock county line, similar depredations have been committed. The work in Hancock county was done several days before that in Daviess, the grass having already come up. Most of the damage in Hancock county is in the Chambers neighborhood, a few miles from the Daviess county line. The principal sufferers are Ed Terrill, Tom Gibbs, W. Gibbs and Buener Bros. As is the case in Daviess county, all of the persons whose plant beds were damaged are independent growers, that is to say they are not members of the American Society of Equity.

This is the first instance of the use of unlawful means in connection with the tobacco situation in Daviess or in Hancock county. In fact, such occurrences have generally been outside of the territory of the A. S. of E.

Mrs. Gray Dead.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gray died at the residence of her nephew, Mr. Ben D. Ringo, at Owensboro, at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, of old age. She had been confined to her bed only three weeks. She was born in Trimble county in 1820 and was therefore, eighty-six years of age. She had been a devoted member of the Methodist church for seventy years, and was an excellent Christian woman. Her husband who was William Gray, of Cromwell, died many years ago, and no children survive her. She has made her home with Mr. Ringo for many years.

Her remains were interred at Liberty in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives Wednesday.

WOULD BUILD EQUITY PRODUCE WAREHOUSE

Prominent Equity Man Urges the Necessity of Such an Enterprise.

Bro. farmers, how long will we continue to sell farm produce for checks? How long will we neglect to label our products with the union label? How long will we continue to peddle produce from house to house and visit a dozen houses to find a customer who is in need of our products? How long will we agree to take from 25 to 30 percent less for home grown products than the same so-called Northern products bring on the same market when the only real difference in the two consists in the way they have been graded and placed upon the market?

One is thrown at the merchant's feet without being graded, sorted, washed or otherwise fitted for market and thrown upon the market without any regard of the demands of the market. To-day the market is over-crowded. Ten days from now the customer will have to seek other markets to supply his wants or go without until we take another fit of marketing and loading down our pockets with worthless tin money which is worse than worthless to us anywhere else except at the merchants' door where we unload.

The other is gathered together by business men (pooled) in suitable ware houses and cold storage rooms, placed along side of the railroad track and held in stock (or pooled) until there is a demand for it and then shipped out at a moment's warning at a price of 1/4 to 1/2 more than we get for the same products.

The difference in the profits in the two methods is enormous. The latter pays a handsome profit, while the former barely pays the cost of production. We do the work, while the other fellow does the business. Our families often go without the necessities of life and our children go without education on account of our unbusinesslike way of placing our produce on the market.

How long will present condition continue with? Just so long as we remain out of business with our products. Did you ever know of a merchant, banker, lawyer, doctor, blacksmith, planing mill, flour mill or any other branch of business on the face of the earth that could do business without a business house to do business in? We can never get our products together neither can we sort grade, label and price our products in the condition that our trade demands until we have built a farmers' produce house, centrally located among our best customers who number from three to four thousand or more in Ohio county, besides quite a number of hotels, boarding houses and town people and farmers who are customers of farm products other than the ones they raise themselves.

FOUND GIRL AFTER LONG SEARCH.

Child Kidnapped Two Years Ago in Columbus Restored to Mother and Loved Ones.

Lexington, Ky., March 25.—After two years in the care of strangers, Mary McClelland, a six-year-old girl has been restored to her relatives. The child disappeared from her home in Columbus, Ohio, two years ago. She had been playing in the street and when she failed to return her parents instituted a search. A clew was found which indicated that she had been kidnapped, but all trace of her abductors was finally lost. A few months ago a man named Conley appeared at Lee City, Wolf county, this State, and left a child with a family named Nichols. Mr. W. E. Wise took a liking to the child and to him she imparted the information that she did not belong to Nichols and that her parents lived at Columbus. Dr. Wise wrote to the mayor of Columbus, with the result that the parents of the girl were located. Thomas McClelland, of Lexington, O., uncle of Mary, immediately started for Lee City and identified her as his lost niece. The father of the little one died shortly after she was lost. Mr. McClelland passed through here to-day with the child for her home.

ROGERS-RICE.

Miss Florence Rice and Mr. J. L. Rogers were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents at Greenville, Ky., Wednesday. The bride is one of Greenville's most beautiful and popular ladies. Mr. Rogers is a prominent attorney of Muhlenburg, having served two terms as County Attorney. He is a brother of Messrs. Fon and Lon Rogers, who were formerly editors of the Republican.

LOWE-TICHENOR.

On Thursday afternoon of last week at the home of the bride's parents at Beaver Dam, Mr. R. B. Lowe was united in marriage to Miss Iva Tichenor. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Tichenor and is one of Beaver Dam's most popular and handsome ladies. The groom is a prominent citizen of Bowling Green and is in the employ of the government as railway mail clerk. They will make their home in Bowling Green.

WOODWARD-BARNARD.

Mr. Wayne Woodward, of Beaver Dam, and Miss Jessie Parnard, of Ceravlo, were married at the residence of Mr. A. L. Williams, of Central City last Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. T. L. Crandall officiated. After the ceremony the bride and groom left for their future home in Beaver Dam. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Druzilla Barnard, of Ceravlo and is quite popular with her many friends. Mr. Woodward is an enterprising young business man of Beaver Dam.

WEDNESDAY FLINCH.

The Ladies' Social Club was entertained most delightfully by Miss Margaret Gunther last Wednesday afternoon. The parlors were beautifully decorated with palms and other potted plants. Six games of progressive flinch were played, Mrs. A. S. Yewell being the lucky winner of every game. The tallies were hand printed in water colors. Some of them were Easter lilies while others were in the shape of Easter eggs with rabbits painted upon them. Delightful and dainty refreshments were served, after which, miniature baskets with tiny chickens perched upon them, were given as favors.

Miss Willie Smith charmingly presided at the punch bowl. The ladies present to enjoy this meeting were: Mesdames R. D. Walker, W. S. Tinsley, R. E. Lee Zimmerman, F. L. Felix, E. B. Pendleton, Hooker Williams, A. S. Yewell, W. H. Barnes, Rowan Holbrook, E. E. Birkhead, J. C. Berry, J. S. Glenn; Misses Ida Lewis, Lizzie Miller, Maggie Marks, Little Marks, Hattie Barnett, Mattie Sanderfur, Mary Smith, Willie Smith, Emma Park.

CHLOROFORMED DOG AND SET BROKEN LEG.

Animal Was Put on Operating Table And Physician Set And Splintered Limb.

It is very seldom that a physician in the county is called into consultation over a dog by its owner when the animal has a broken leg. It is usually killed, the owner thinking that he has done a good deed by relieving it of intense agony. But such was not the case Saturday afternoon at Whitesville, says the Owensboro Messenger.

A valuable terrier belonging to the village blacksmith, I. D. Ware, engaged in a fight with a large shepherd dog and the terrier's hind leg was broken by the teeth of the big dog. One of the best physicians was immediately called to attend the dog. He chloroformed the animal and put him on the operating table and, as though he was a human, his injured leg was set and splinted. After the dog came out of the stupor he was able to hop around.

The total exports of meats, dairy products and food animals from the United States last year aggregated over $250,000,000 in value, according to a statement issued by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

FREAK HOSPITALITY IN SOCIAL WORLD.

Rich Americans Squander Fortunes on Entertainment.

Guests of Honor as Well as Costumes Disgusting to Ordinary Men.

If there is any limit to the eccentricities of hospitality it must surely one would think, have been reached in some of the "freak" banquets recently given across the Atlantic.

Sometime ago Mrs. Abram Hewitt, wife of an ex-Mayor of New York, gave a highly novel party to a number of her ultra-fashionable friends. Each guest appeared in baby clothes—the ladies in short skirts, with their hair in pigtails, and the men beardless and wearing patched breeches. All carried dolls, slates and sponges, and reciting their lessons to Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Coudert, who figured as schoolmaster and schoolmistress respectively, while the proceedings were further enlivened by a chorus of professional singers dressed as monks and nuns.

Mr. Romaine Peirson, a well-known American clubman, celebrated the tenth anniversary of his divorce by a dinner to 24 of his friends at the Beach Hotel, Chicago. The invitations to the feast were ornamented with designs representing broken hearts; the principal toast was, "Here's to my mother-in-law. Heaven may bless her, but I don't insist," and the place of honor was occupied by a gentleman whose furniture had been seized by his former wife a few days earlier.

An eccentric feast was given recently by Mr. Frank G. Balsito, of Brooklyn, to the doctors and nurses who had attended him during and after a serious operation. The wines were drunk out of medicine bottles, the tables were decorated with antiseptic lint, and the ices were served in the form of human skulls.

For originality, however, it would be difficult to beat the supper party given a few weeks ago by Mrs. Fisker Griffin at her home in a fashionable suburb of Chicago. Ten of the leading members of Chicago society escorted a bird or an animal to the supper table, the guests including a guinea pig, a white pig, a rooster, a rabbit, a dove, a parrot, a lizard, a terrier, a cat and a squirrel, the pig having the honor of being escorted by the hostess herself. Covers were laid for 20, and each fourfooted or feathered guest was served with its own pet delicacies—the rabbit with lettuce, the lizard with flies, the cat with a live mouse, on so on.

On a very different order was the dinner given by Mr. Andrew Carnegie at the Stevens Institute, New York, not long ago, at which the appointments were, as far as possible, fashioned to represent the processes and appliances used in a steel factory. Thus the centerpiece was a miniature blast furnace, four feet high, around the edge of which ran a railway 40 feet long. Instead of molten metal, however, the furnace poured out hot punch into small cars, which conveyed it over the line to the different guests. A small model of a Bessemer furnace similarly dispensed pastry, while the bread was shaped like locomotives and the ice cream like rail-way ties.

At a "pony banquet" given by Mr. Harvey S. Ladew, at Glen Cove, Long Island, the guests of honor were two ponies which had won the principal prizes at the Piping Rock Horse Show. The four-footed guests were installed in two horse boxes, draped in silk and embroidered in roses; and between them sat the host at the head of a horseshoe table, at which 40 mere human guests were seated. Dinner was served to the ladies, gentlemen and ponies together, the latter feasting on oats, carrots and other delicacies, drinking water from gold-hooped wooden pails.

At another banquet in honor of the prize Pomeranian, the canine guests were seated on high chairs and fed by butlers with veal cutlets, sausages, chocolates and ice cream, with a liberal slice each of a birthday cake which might have graced a royal table.

POOR OLD MULE CAUSED WAR.

Between Honduras and Nicaragua Republicans.

Mule Was Taken by the Cavalry—
Efforts to Have it Returned Futile.

One mule—a mule belonging to the Senor Ireno Salgado—was the chief object of dispute between Nicaragua and Honduras when they began the quarrel which ended in the war that is threatening the peace of all Central America, according to the official communication by the ministers of foreign affairs for the two Republics, copies of which have been received in Washington.

The controversy began when Senor Augusto C. Coello, Honduran minister for foreign affairs, wrote a note to Senor Jose D. Gomez, the Nicaraguan minister of foreign affairs, on Jan. 26, protesting against the theft of a mule from Ireno Salgado by thirty-five Nicaraguan cavalrymen who were charged with entering Honduran territory.

In reply Senor Gomez said the Nicaraguans did not quite enter Honduras, although they passed near to the little town of Los Manos in that Republic. The taking of the mule was not denied, but Senor Gomez insisted in his letter that Salgado was not a Honduran citizen, but a Nicaraguan, who had to leave that country because of the part he played in a revolution two years before. Consequently Nicaragua maintained Honduras had no right to fly to the defense of Salgado's mule.

This note brought a spirited reply from Honduras announcing that Irene Salgado, the Nicaraguan refugee, was living in Tegucigalpa happily engaged in trade there, while a man by the same name, a most reputable and respected farmer, a Honduran of unquestioned citizenship, lived at Los Manos and owned the much muzzled mule. Nicaragua replied it was true that Colonel Juan I. Rocha, who commanded the party of cavalrymen, took a mule near Los Manos, but reiterated that the animal was not taken on Honduran territory.

The dispatches grew longer as the controversy waxed warmer. Other questions arose. Then an arbitration tribunal was opened and finally the break came when President Zenaya of Nicaragua withdrew his member of the board of arbitration and war between Honduras and Nicaragua actually began.

Easter.
Sing birds, the Easter morn is near, O! April skies, bend blue and clear; Let sunshine bathe the world in light, And make its darkest corners bright.

Bring from the woodland's budding shade, The first spring beauties of the glade, And let the Easter lilies bloom Above the darkness of the tomb.

Let the sweet Easter anthems rise In waves of gladness, to the skies; Till hearts long bowed with grief and pain, Be lifted on triumphant strain.

The risen Christ draws still more near With every swiftly passing year; And soon His Kingdom shall have come In every land beneath the sun.

When no discordant note of pain Shall mar the Easter's joyous strain, Then, Easter bells, ring soft and clear, Blest Easter Anthems, fill the air.

The Lord of life enfoldeth all Our sleeping ones, who at His call, Shall sometime wake to life once more When the long night of death is o'er.

with sickness, poverty and discouragement, and true Spartan courage kept the wolf from the door and saved the lives of a large family of children.

The man who saves one life receives a prize for bravery, his picture appears in the metropolitan papers, and he wears a medal which says to the world he was brave. And he was. But the woman who has saved the lives of many is given no badge, and seldom even a word of commendation.

The husband of the ordinary woman has not the gift of making money. He works hard but is a poor manager and the wolf never gets far from his door. The good wife sews, cooks and mends for the man who does not give her even kind word for pay. One has almost truthfully said that for each of her children she has trod the Gethsemane of woman, only to go through that slavery of motherhood which the woman endures who is too poor to hire competent nurses. For years and years she never knew what it was to have a single night's unbroken sleep. The small hours of the morning found her walking the floor with a sick babe, or putting water to thirsty little lips. There was no rest for her day or night. There was always a child in her arms or clinging to her skirts. Often than not she was sick and nerve worn and weary almost to death but never failed to rally to the call of "mother!"—as a good soldier always rallies to his battle cry.

No body called her brave and yet, when one of the children came down with malignant diphtheria she braved death one hundred times in bending over the little sufferer, without one thought of danger, and when the little one was laid away under the sod, she who had loved most was the first to gather herself together and take up the burden of life for the others.

These ordinary women may not receive a Carnegie badge for bravery but "He who marks the sparrow's fall" will certainly reserve for them the brightest jeweled crowns in his kingdom.

NIGHT RIDERS ARE SHOWING HAND AGAIN.

Tobacco Beds of Non-Association Growers Sown With Grass Seed.

Plant bed destruction, instances of which were of such frequent occurrence last year, has broken out again, numbers of beds having been destroyed this week by sowing the plant bed with grass seed, says a Hopkinsville dispatch. Three of the outrages occurred near Gracey. The plant beds of W. R. Fourqurean and W. F. Cox, who live in this county, and Hazekiah Malone, through whose place passes the line between Trigg and Christian counties, having thus been tampered with.

The worst reports came from the southeastern portion of Trigg county, where it is said that for a distance of about ten miles reaching from Roaring Spring to Saline creek practically every non-association member has been visited and his plant bed sowed with grass seed and some of the association members have likewise suffered. Among those in this region whose plant beds were visited were S. H. Moseley, Jack Lum and Sid Hancock and Albert Ledford and his share croppers.

Mr. Ledford is a member of the association but his croppers are not. The grass seed sprout and grow much faster than the tobacco, and thus choke out the plants on which the farmer is dependent for his crop. In some instances the farmer has re-burned his plant bed and will reset them but most of them will attempt to keep the grass pulled out by hand.

Many a soldier who bravely stood at his post of duty for two or three years during our Civil war, is covered with badges. We would not take one from him, he merits them; but many an "ordinary" woman has stood at her post of duty for thirty, forty and even a half century, fighting for bravery.

She may not jump in front of a runaway team to stop it or to rescue a friend from the fifth story of a burning building, but we have women right in this community who have exhibited more true heroism than any man wearing the Carnegie badge of honor for bravery.

TOBACCO DEP'T'S NEW SECRETARY

Outlook Bright and Whole Country is Becoming Interested in our Tobacco Handling.

S. B. Lee has been named as secretary of the National Tobacco Growers department of the A. S. of E. to succeed C. Hayes Taylor, who recently resigned to accept a better position in Washington City. The selection was to have been made at the national board meeting held at Central City on Saturday March 16, but there was not a quorum present and no definite action was taken. Later all the members of the board were communicated with and the selection was made.

The new secretary has been in the A. S. of E. since it started in this county and he has been active in different capacities of grader, salesmen, &c., since the pooling plan was adopted here. He is, therefore, well prepared to fulfill the duties of the office.

In an interview following his receiving notice of his selection Mr. Lee said: "I did not ask for the place. In fact, I proposed the name of another for it and tried to have him elected but the board asked me to resign so that I might be elected to the office and I have no doubt the members think I am the man for the place I accepted the office expecting to give all the people the best service possible. I have had some experience that will be an aid to me. However, I shall be embarrassed by several circumstances, but especially by the fact that I am following one of the best secretaries any organization could have and then I am coming into the office at a time when the treasury is not only empty, but the department in debt $500.

"However, I believe firmly in the future of the A. S. of E. and, especially after we sell the 1906 crop of tobacco, I am sure the department will be in good condition to care well for my successor. We have been running alone with only one, the Green river district, well organized and supporting the office and from that district only one payment has been made of one-fourth per cent. of amount of sales which goes to make up the departmental revenue. That payment came from Beaver Dam and amounted to $34.85. Now, the Burley district is organized, the stemming district is in line and the Western part of the State in which Organizer L. N. Robertson is at work and we soon hope to have a new district composed of Grayson, Warren, Edmonson, Butler and other counties organized, and lending its support to this office. From this view it will be seen that Kentucky is now in good shape and will be better conditioned.

"From every tobacco section of the United States inquiries are coming in asking for information. The growers everywhere are looking to the Kentucky A. S. of E. for the best method of handling and selling their crop.

"I have special pride in the Green River district because we have worked out the pooling problem most successfully here. I have just completed a tabulation of all the pooled tobacco farmers of the county. He is proud of to state the exact number of pounds pooled. I will say it is from thirty to forty per cent. greater than the amount pooled last year.

The Home Builders.
Periodical literature on the important subject of building the home has heretofore neglected one essential detail, in fact the fundamental point of the whole subject, selecting the site. The April number of the Woman's Home Companion supplies this missing detail in this shape of a comprehensive article by Henry Harrison Lewis. Mr. Lewis believes that experience in land seeking suggests the following rules for use in choosing land for home building:

Accessibility, or distance from place of business; nearness of supplies; title; schools, privacy, water supply and drainage, neighborhood, view of outlook, fire protection and insurance, protection from storm and flood, taxes, probable rise in price of land.

Of these the most important thing, after satisfying oneself of the availability of a site, is the title. The question of schools is one appealing direct

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them; and in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, of indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even vascular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The "Discovery" cures the same and many other afflictions, as clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous in the unparalleled cure it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unimpeachable testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic disease, painful periods, irregularities, prolamination and other displacements caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred afflictions, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glycerine extracts of native, medicinal roots and processes, employed in their manufacture were original by Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are extracted from pure alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

to the parents. Mr. Lewis suggests as a matter of precaution that the home seeker should look up the school board and make inquiries concerning the fitness of its members for the positions. An efficient school board is almost invariably proof of good school equipment.

Health in the Canal Zone.

The high wages paid make it a mighty temptation to our artisans to join the force of skilled workmen needed to contract the Panama Canal. Many are restrained however by the fear of fevers and malaria. It is the knowing ones—those who have used Electric Bitters, who go there without this fear, well knowing they are safe from malarious influence with Electric Bitters, on hand. Cures blood poison too, biliousness, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Guaranteed by all druggists. 50c.

CUMBERLAND TELEPHONE COMPANY LOST.

High Court Dismisses The Appeal Taken in Owensboro Case.

The Court of Appeals last Friday dismissed the appeal in the case of the Rural Home and Cumberland Telephone companies against the Harris or K. I. Telephone company, the famous Daviess county case.

This is the third and, probably, the final step in the telephone war which opened a few weeks since when the Kentucky and Indiana company awoke to the fact that the operators could not connect subscribers with the Rural Home exchanges. An investigation showed that the lines had been severed and the Rural Home connected with the Cumberland. Manager Newman Birck, of the Rural Home, then announced that an arrangement had been made between the newly allied companies. The next step was a restraining order issued by the Circuit Court, and later made permanent, stopping the Rural Home from severing its connection with the K. and I. exchange and also enjoining the Cumberland company from making the new connection and also ordering them to restore the severed connections.

These orders were partially complied with but another arrangement was made by which connection was still maintained in part. The K. and I. company next went into court and made the Rural Home be ruled for contempt and punished for the contempt in not having obeyed the order of the court. The motion was sustained but the defendant was given three days in which to file a written response setting forth that the orders had been fully complied with. Instead of making this response an appeal was asked for but was denied. Attorney Finn, for the defendant, then took the case to the Court of Appeals where the appeal was dismissed.

BURTON FREED; WILL EDIT PAPER.

Former United States Senator Finishes Prison Term.

Declares He Has no Thought of Revenge on Enemies--- Charity For All.

Joseph Ralph Burton, who, until his conviction in the Federal Court several months ago, was United States Senator from Kansas, was last Friday released from the county jail at Ironton, Missouri, having completed his sentence of six months, imposed when he was found guilty of violating a Federal statute by appearing before a governmental department as the paid representative of an alleged "get-rich-quick" concern of St. Louis. The fine, which has not been paid, will be held over him as a civil judgment. On leaving the jail Burton gave out the following signed statement:

"This is the first signed statement I have made for publication since the day I was indicted. The impression has gone out that I propose to live for revenge. This is a mistake. I have no such purpose. The wrongs done to me are the wrongs of others. Vengeance is thought to be noble only by the ignoble. 'Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord,' is the philosophy to which I have always subscribed in the past, and to which I shall adhere in the future.

"I am a thousand times more solicitous that I shall not wrong another than I am concerned about the wrongs others have done, or may do, to me. In saying this, however, I do not pretend to have more than two cheeks. Nor do I think it is wrong to rebuke hypocrisy.

"I return to my home at Albinile, brimful of life and hope. Only my body has been in jail. My mind has been at all times free; sustained with the knowledge that I am innocent, I shall take up my life's work for all. I shall talk and write. With pen and tongue I shall stand for politics and principles that I believe will make for the general good, and oppose such as I think are bad. It is bad politics that make bad men and bad government; while true policies make good men and good government. My fight shall be against measures, rather than against men.

"I shall have charge of a newspaper, unless there is a fraud order issued against it before I can arrange for its publication. It will reflect my ideas. It is to be one of the agencies in the work I hope to do. I shall talk when I am not writing, and shall write when I am not talking. The history of my case, already prepared, will appear in serial form, first in the paper.

"This story will not be sensational; it will be truthful. Interwoven with the history and a necessary part of it will be a discussion of certain conditions in our legislative, administrative and judicial government that have escaped the attention of the average citizen.

"I will not go further into my case nor my plans and purposes. The first statement will be made on Saturday evening to my home people; then there will be more to follow.

"J. R. BURTON." Accompanied by Mrs. Burton and his niece, Miss Dorothy Mitchell, Burton departed for St. Louis, en route for Albinile, Kan.

Good Advice.

We cannot all be rich under present conditions, but we can all, barring accident of misfortune, achieve a competence. The best way to start for that end is to begin to save something now. For the man or woman on a small income to lay by anything at all, the savings bank offers the best chance. The first dollar is the hardest one to save. When you get that, half of the second will be waiting to bear it company.

It is the history of most fortunes in this country that they all came from a few hundred dollars, saved little by little, nickles, dimes and dollars, just as you can start your little hoard. Once get a small sum ahead, you can save by taking advantage of opportunities that present themselves to every one. Ready money will always buy more and cheaper than credit, and bargains must be picked up when they can be had. After your first fifty or a hundred is where you can reach it when it will be useful, you will find that the second comes far easier, and in a few months or a year or two you will not be afraid of being suddenly thrown out of work, or of sickness or other misfortune.

Every working boy or girl, every housewife or man of family should have a saving bank account.

BIG FEET ARE WORTH SOMETHING

Hopkinsville Man, Wins Shoes No. 16 on Double E. Last, Offered by Manufacturer.

With his six feet eight inches of height and his 275 pounds avoirdupois, John Seargent has long enjoyed the distinction of being the largest man in this end of Kentucky, but recently he has added to his laurels in this respect by demonstrating that he also possesses the largest feet anywhere in this region, says a Hopkinsville dispatch.

Through their local agents a shoe manufacturing company offered a handsome pair of patent leather shoes, sizes sixteen, on a double E last, to the man whose feet would fit. Scores of big-footed people tried the shoes but none of them could wear the enormous "skates." Finally Mr. Seargent heard of the offer and tried on the shoes, and they were found to be a perfect fit.

The manufacturers were advised of the fact, and they have notified their agent to present the shoes to Mr. Seargent. They stated in their letter that they had been making this offer for a year past and that this was the first instance where a foot big enough to fit the shoes had been found. The manufacturers also instructed their agent to have a photograph of Mr. Seargent and the shoes made and send to them, together with full information regarding the giant. They intend to use the picture in widely advertising the occurrence.

"I shall have charge of a newspaper, unless there is a fraud order issued against it before I can arrange for its publication. It will reflect my ideas. It is to be one of the agencies in the work I hope to do. I shall talk when I am not writing, and shall write when I am not talking. In Senator Burton's case it would be best to let "actions speak louder than words."

The great divergency of opinion among insanity experts leads one to doubt whether half of them are sane.

Who ever heard of anyone being smart enough to live up to the reputation given him by his parents, when a baby.

A good sized shadow fell across Governor Beckham's Senatorial path when the Court of Appeals set aside the legislative gerrymander.

Mr. Bryan is still sounding the praises of President Roosevelt. It would be awful on him if they should be rival candidates next year.

If the army officers in charge of the Panama Canal will put up the sign, "No visitors allowed," we imagine the work will be greatly facilitated.

Spooner resigned from the Senate in order that he might practice his profession, and make money. Bailey continues in the Senate, practices his profession, and makes money.

Judge James Hargis expressed himself as satisfied to be tried in Elliott county.—news item. This is probably the first time he has given out this bit of information since he told Judge "Corns" where to transfer the trial to.

That was good advice which the Courier-Journal gave the Democrats of Louisville, when it said, "next time let them win at the polls." It was discussing the recent election of the City Democratic ticket by Judges Miller and Kirby.

The Democratic press of Kentucky is making a determined effort to nominate Yrekes as the Republican candidate for Governor. This is one year the Republicans should make their own nomination, after careful, prayerful and deliberate thought.

Because a kind Providence has allowed the sun to dry up the mud to some extent, don't suffer your enthusiasm for good roads to ooze out at your finger tips. Remember the same conditions will prevail in a few short months, with the usual loss to your business, unless something is done during the summer.

If we are not mistaken, the Court of Appeals will help the lower court to get a better idea of how to right a wrong, when the Louisville contested election cases reach that tribunal. Judges Miller and Kirby in their opinion claim to have found the election as rotten as it could be, but not rotten enough to disturb. No one who reads that opinion, can fail to be impressed with the idea that there was really no election held. It was a roaring farce from start to finish.

It begins to look as though the day of the political tricksters, and the debaucher of elections, has gone in this country. The recent opinion by the Court of Appeals in the gerrymander cases and the strong words by trial Judges in their opinion in the Louisville contest cases, against the methods heretofore used in that city to thwart the will of the people, furnish a gleam of hope that a day of political righteousness is in sight even in Kentucky. Hasten the time when every voter may cast an untrammeled vote, with an absolute certainty that it will be counted as cast, and when the poorest citizen may run for office without the expenditure of a dollar in campaign funds. Then indeed will government "for the people and by the people" be a reality in this country.

In another column will be found a statement of the financial condition of Ohio county at the end of the year 1906, furnished by a committee appointed by the Fiscal Court for that purpose. This report should have been given to the public sometime ago but the committee has been delayed in getting the facts together. We are glad to see that the present Fiscal Court is disposed to take the public into its confidence. The people like to know how their finances are being managed, and in this instance the showing is one very creditable to those who are in charge of our fiscal affairs. A balance of $7911.15 on the right side of the ledger is a good record for the first year of our present Fiscal Court. This too in face of the fact that a large amount has been expended on new levees, bridges, and to reinforce and save the Hartford and Beaver Dam pike.

We are glad that no charge of night raiding has ever been made against the A. S. of E. in Ohio county. Whether true or false, these accusations injure the cause for which the order was instituted. We do not know that any member of the society has ever been guilty of depredations, such as burning warehouses, destroying plant beds, etc., as has been charged in other counties. We do know, however, that violence of this sort would so surely hurt the order, that its enemies might be tempted to do these things, with the purpose of having them laid at the door of the A. S. of E. to disgrace it in the eyes of the public. Nothing would please the enemies of equity so much as to have its members branded before the world as a set of law breakers, and revolutionists, of the anarchist type. It is a matter of special pride, that we publish that in Ohio county, the strongest equity county in the world, no charge of lawlessness, or even threat of violence has ever been charged against the order. For the best interests of a noble set of honest men, striving to better their condition, "with malice toward none and charity for all," let no harsh lines mar our pathway to certain victory.

Among the Lodges.

Hartford Lodge No. 675, F. & A. M., will have work in all three degrees next Monday afternoon and night. Supper will be served at the hall. The members are all enthusiastic over prospects of the new hall.

Rough River No. 110 K. of P. had an interesting session last Tuesday night, with an old time attendance of the members. A nice lunch was served by the committee composed of Knights J. C. Iler, Roscoe Render and Ramey E. Duke. Addresses were made by Knights E. M. Woodward, J. B. Wilson and E. W. Ford. Some splendid vocal music was furnished by the K. of P. quartette composed of Knights Pirtle, Griffin, Birkhead and Walker.

Among the interesting contributions for the good of the order, was a brief history of Rough River lodge prepared by Keeper of Records and Seal, C. M. Crowe. Following are a few extracts from the paper, read by Knight Crowe, which will be of interest to many of our readers: Rough River Lodge No. 110, Knights of Pythias was instituted at Hartford, Ky., on April 19, 1894, by Grand Chancellor, A. D. Rogers, of Hopkinsville, after which the following officers were duly elected and installed: C. C., E. D. Guffy; V. C., A. B. Baird; Prelate, Jo B. Rogers; M. of W. J. P. McKinney; K. of R. & S. B. D. Ringo; M. of F. C. L. Field, M. of E. W. H. Griffin; M. A. S. T. Barnett; I. G. A. M. Barnett, and O. G., C. L. Hardwick. The charter members were A. B. Baird, E. D. Guffy, C. L. Field, S. T. Barnett, Jo B. Rogers, B. D. Ringo, W. H. Griffin, C. L. Hardwick, J. P. McKinney, John B. Birr, A. M. Barnett and W. A. Gibson. The lodge has had presiding officers in order as follows: E. D. Guffy, B. D. Ringo, W. A. Gibson, E. W. Ford, J. S. Glenn, C. M. Crowe, J. B. Wilson, W. H. Barnes, J. R. Pirtle, Jno. T. Moore, Shelby Taylor, T. J. Morton, A. C. Taylor, S. A. Anderson, S. T. Barnett, W. S. Tinsley, R. E. L. Simmerman, John G. Keown, E. M. Woodward, Jas. H. Williams, Jas. T. Sanderfur, R. T. Collins, and Col. C. M. Barnett, our present Chancellor Commander and who was the first Pact chancellor of Rough River Lodge No. 110. All of whom, except your humble servant, were and are faithful and efficient presiding officers. The first petitions for membership were received on May 12, 1894, from W. M. Fair, John P. Morton and James A. Smith. They were elected and initiated into the rank of Page May 19, 1894; the rank of Esquire was conferred on them, May 26, 1894, and the rank of Knight June 2, 1894. Since the institution of the lodge, the following persons have been admitted to membership, either by petition or transfer card: W. M. Fair, John P. Morton, Jas. A. Smith, C. M. Barnett, U. C. Barnett, W. R. Bonner, J. B. Perryman, J. W. Sanderfur, R. L. Eads, I. H. Teel, Jno. B. Wilson, Shelby Taylor, C. P. Keown, E. W. Ford, E. L. Bullington, A. T. Landrum, C. M. Crowe, A. F. Stanley, R. BANK CASE READS LIKE FICTION TALE

Magazine Story Paralleled in Suit Against Bank.

Bank's Demurrer Against The Receiver's Attempt to Collect Sustained.

The fiction story has once more been paralleled by fact. In the February number of Pearson's magazine there is a Wall Street story about a man who got a National bank to guarantee his note, and on this apparently gilt-edge security easily raised funds. When the note became due payment was refused on the ground that a National bank is forbidden by its Federal character to guarantee notes. The objection readers made to this story was the improbability of finding any financial institution which, through ignorance or otherwise, would thus violate the law.

Mikael Samuels, who did business under the name of Mikael Samuels & Co., owed the Central National Bank $10,000 on a note and was unable to pay. On January 4, 1904, he went to the Cooper Exchange Bank, which was then doing business at 20 Avenue A, and asked to borrow $12,000 on his note, saying that payment would be guaranteed by the Central National Bank. This was satisfactory to Samuel Gotthelf, the President, and the loan was made.

Of the money raised on this note $10,000 was turned over to the Central National Bank in settlement of the old note. In the same month Samuels was declared bankrupt.

On March 12, 1904, the Central National Bank and the National Citizens' Bank consolidated under the name of the Citizens' Central National Bank. The guaranteed note became due on May 4 of the same year, and was not paid by the bankrupt.

About a year later the Cooper Exchange Bank became bankrupt, and R. Ross Appleton was appointed receiver. John W. Hutchinson, Jr., of 170 Broadway acted as his attorney. In searching through the defunct bank's assets, the Samuels note, with its accompanying guarantee, was discovered. Mr. Hutchinson began suit for the receiver against the consolidated bank. The latter demurred to the complaint on the ground that a cause of action had not been established, the Federal banking law forbidding and making void any guarantee. It was argued before Justice McLean last June and the demurser set aside, but was later sustained by the Appellate Division.

The lawyer for the receiver, however, got leave to amend his complaint. This was similarly demurred to. Justice O'Gorman, in a decision handed down recently, sustained the demurser. Mr. Hutchinson announces that if necessary he will carry the question to the United States Supreme Court.

LAW TO LEGALIZE LICKING EDITORS.

Pennsylvania State Legislature has a Bill Making it Legal to Thrash Newspaper Men.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 23.—If a bill introduced in the house of representatives to-day by a member from Philadelphia becomes a law, any person in Pennsylvania has a right to assault proprietors, editors or reporters of newspapers that published defamatory matter against the offended person.

The bill provides that the defendant in any suit for assault and battery shall be acquitted if he proves that the person upon whom the assault was committed wrote or published, within one year previous to the assault, any false or defamatory matter concerning the defendant or any parent, child, sister, wife or fiancee of the defendant.

The provisions of the bill extend to civil actions for damages arising out of a case for assault and battery. If the person who committed the assault proves that fact concerning the publication, the one assaulted can get no damage.

FATHER TIES BOY TO CHAIR WITH CORDS.

Cords Cut Flesh of The Child And Angry Neighbors Threatened to Lynch Man.

Owensboro, Ky., March 24.—Tied to a chair with fishing cords, in such a position that he could not move hand or foot, Montgomery Guess, six years of age, was found at his home by a policeman to-day. The cords used to tie the boy had cut his flesh and blood was flowing from the wounds. Screams from the child caused the police to be called by the neighbors.

The deed was done by the child's father, Charles Guess. The boy claims that he wanted to accompany his father away from home, and because he cried, Guess tied him to the chair. The neighbors declare that Guess has on repeated occasions treated his boy in a cruel and inhuman manner.

The father was found by the officers a short distance from home on the railroad track where he had been for many hours. Had it not been for the patrolmen, Guess would have been roughly handled by the neighbors when he was brought home. A large crowd of infuriated citizens had gathered at the home, and there were many threats of violence made against him. Action will be taken against him for mistreatment.

Hunters of Moose.

Not far from Lake Edward a few days ago a hunting party came up on the tracks of two moose that were walking leisurely through the woods. As the party gained upon the animals the forest echoed with the deep guttural bellowings of his consort. Now and then there was a crash as a dead tree was laid prostrate. The clattering din of his horns as they came in contact with the timber showed the progress of the bull.

To follow behind such an uproar of bellowings, such crashing of falling timber and rattling of antlers was excitement indeed. After a while the route led obliquely down a hill to the edge of still water, across which the moose had just swum.

The mud stirred up by them in their passage was still eddying in the stagnant water, which was carefully crossed by the hunters on a dead chunk fallen from bank to bank. Gaining upon their quarry their nostrils became sensible of a strong odor of musk, and as they rapidly advanced the hunters tightly grasped their guns on endeavoring to see through the thickets ahead for a sight of the game.

Suddenly and unexpectedly the dense underwood was left and the party stood on the edge of a little open valley. An enormous black mass, rearing majestic antlers was just entering a group of young maples at the farther side of the valley, when the sight of a rifle was brought upon him, and the surrounding forest reverberated with the unwonted report.

Uttering a roar the huge brute sank plunging into the bush. As the guides rushed on with a shout, the bull, with another roar, rose and disappeared before there was time for another shot.

The blood stained track was followed until darkness put an end to the pursuit, and when the trail was taken up on the following morning the lifeless moose was found not a hundred feet from where the chase was suspended on the previous night.—Kansas City Journal.

TOBACCO MEN GREATLY ARE PUZZLED.

Can't Understand Why American Tobacco Company is So Active.

Leaf tobacco dealers and growers are puzzled over the inactivity of the American Tobacco company, both on the local auction breaks and in the country, says the Louisville Courier-Journal. For more than two weeks the local buyers of the company have taken little more than 5 per cent. of the offerings on the local market, and reports of buying in the country have been rare. The American Tobacco company uses about sixty-five percent. of the Burley yield, the remainder being taken by independent and exporters. So far the takings of the company have been about 20 per cent. Purchases in the country have been correspondingly low. To this date last year and the year before estimates placed the amount bought by the company at $80,000,000 pounds, while this year liberal estimates place the amount at $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 pounds.

Asked for the reason for the attitude of the American Tobacco company Saturday, a well known tobacco handler said that it was difficult to solve, that it may be due to the abnormal rates for money, the company preferring to wait until it needs the tobacco or the money market becomes easier, or that it may be that the company has a full stock on hand and is content to hold off until next season.

However, he expressed doubts as to the company having any considerable stock on hand, as the demand for the manufactured tobacco has kept pace with the supply and both European and American visible stocks are comparatively low.

In the first monthly report for the current year by the Kentucky commissioner of agriculture, Hubert Vreeland it is stated that nearly two-thirds of the Burley tobacco crop is still in the hands of the farmer and unsold, and of the dark type two-thirds has been sold, leaving only one-third unsold in the hands of the planters.

Since the American Tobacco company let up in buying Burley prices in the local market have eased off materially and the offering of the better grades have been reduced. The Cincinnati market is also reported as experiencing a lack of interest on the part of the buyers for the American company. The major part of the 1906 crop of dark tobacco was disposed of several weeks ago, the American Tobacco company, the imperial company, of England and W. S. Matthews & Sons, shippers and exporters, being the principal buyers.

WILD MAN ROAMS OVER KENTUCKY RIVER CLIFFS

Hairy Treasure Seen by Farm Hand and Party Will Try to Capture Him.

It has been reported that a wild man has his haunts in the Kentucky river hills near Buena Vista, Ky. A party is being organized to explore a cave where the creature is believed to have his lair and attempt to capture him.

Jim Peters, a farm hand employed by S. D. Scott, postmaster at Buena Vista, while working in Bowman's woods, near High Bridge, a short distance from Buena Vista, was attracted by the peculiar actions of his dog, which came running to him from a thicket near by, yelping and showing every evidence of extreme fright. A moment later, Peters says, a creature with the shape of a human being followed the dog and approached within twenty yards of him. Peters says he was too frightened to run. The apparition kept its eyes on the dog until asked what it was doing there, when it disappeared in the woods. Peters says that the creature wore no clothes except a coon skin tied about its loins. Its long black hair streamed down its back and breast in a matted mass, and covered the face so that he could not see whether it had a beard or not. Its body was covered with a coat of soft, fuzzy black hair and its finger and toe nails were long and curved like talons.

Peters hurried home and told his employer, who at once organized a party who went to where the wild man had been seen. They found no trace of him in the woods, but in the mud of the river bank they found tracks of bare human feet with claw-like toe nails.

Meanwhile the women and children of the vicinity are afraid to leave their homes.

PARTIALLY SIMPLIFIED SELLING WOULD DO.

Would Fellow Simple Combinations Always Uniform in Pronunciation

Capiz, P. I., February 4, 1907.
Dear Mr. Editor:—I have seen a great controversy going in all the papers about reformed spelling. Well and good, the for or against, it will set a few to thinking. I once learned the mysteries of spelling, with many hours of delightful labor, for I was ambitious. There is truly a deal of mental calisthenics to the process of making a good speller. And what fun! Why, I'll never forget one little incident of nearly disastrous chivalry.

My side, beginning at head, had only lost a few and my opponent was a little sunny haired girl of over half way down the opposite line. Thinking I'd done my part I missed but, lo, what I did thru a boyish impulse many of my side did for various reasons 'till we had to spell the third time to win, of course my side did not always win. Great fun, but may be we could find other things better than learning isolated words, spelt without rime or reason, just because some old guy a century or so back set the fashion. Neither do I approve of haphazard spelling. Let us follow all simple combinations that are always uniform in pronunciation. We may even follow such useless forms as "high" or "sigh," instead of "hi" or "si," as they are always uniform but let all such forms as "tough," "though," and "slough" go the way of "plough" and "bough" to the boneyard and write easily "tuf," "tho" and "sloo." Even words such as "kist" is quite uniform already as now spelled or done would perhaps lose nothing of their popularity the spelt as "kist."

The English speaking people are not the whole thing the near it, very near it. If we would extend our language and customs to the outer ends of the earth we'd better be wise and pick up a few of the good things we run down with our automobile. A little uniformity of spelling and a softening of a few hard, harsh consonants would make our language as musical as any on earth. Then the thin veneer of soft "lip courtesy" of the Latin in races, if we but breathe into the "breath of life," put American heart into it as it were, might even, in moderation, improve some of us. Some people do not seem to understand our Western jokes. Ever yours,

JOHN C. BARNARD.

Christ is Risen.

The REV. WALTER B. CRIMES.
Send the message far and wide
On this gladsome Eastertide,
Christ is risen, Lord of glory,
Let all earth repeat the story;
Easter bells in gladness ring,
Welcome to our risen King:
Hallelujah! Christ is risen.
Saddened hearts in silence wept
While the guards their vigils kept;
At the dawning loved ones bring
Sweetest spices to their King—
Found the stone was rolled away,
Sat an angel where He lay.
With the msesage, "Christ is risen."
Send the word to Galilee,
Christ is risen, from death He's free;
Tired disciples hear His voice,
Cease from weeping and rejoice.
Death has lost its power to sting,
Heaven and earth rejoice and sing
Hallelujah! "He is risen."
Waft the news to every land—
To Afric's gloom, and India's strand,
To isles of sea, kingdoms dying;
"Christ is risen," death defying;
Easter songs in gladness sing,
Death has lost its venom'd sting.
Hallelujah! Christ is risen.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION THOROUGHLY AMERICAN

Designs of Exhibition Buildings are all Colonial no Dazzling Colors.

From an architectural standpoint the Jamestown exposition is to be thoroughly American. While we can not yet boast of a national style of architecture, the Colonial type is sufficiently individual and distinctive to be claimed and accepted as American. The design of the exhibition buildings, the "palaces" of art, commerce, and machinery, is almost consistently Colonial. There are no turrets or towers, no domes or minarets, pinnacles, buttresses, and other freaks of fancy; no long stretches of garish white buildings, decked out with wedding cake trimmings, and bespattered with colored lights until they resemble Christmas trees. On the contrary, all the buildings are low, both in stature and in color tones. Few raise their roofs above the tree-tops, and most of them, being built of Harvard brick, trimmed with terra cotta, and fitted with such simple ornaments as the long, low roof balustrade, or bas-relief panels, gave a subdued color effect most pleasing to the eye, and thoroughly novel to exposition architecture.

The general plan of the grounds is, to a certain extent, similar to that of other cities that have gone before—a central court surrounded by the more important or imposing buildings. At Jamestown this court is framed on three sides only by buildings, whereas the fourth rests on the water front with two great piers, two hundred feet wide, stretching out nearly half a mile into the bay. These piers have towers at the far ends and are joined by a bridge, thus enclosing a basin some forty acres in area. This body of water is called Smith harbor, in honor of the original John, and here will be held the aquatic contests that are to form an important part of the exhibition's athletic attractions. The basin will also serve as a harbor and landing-place for small craft, motor boats, and the launches from the warships. The piers are being built by the government, and form a part of the national exhibit.

Treatment For Failing Hair—Information on Various Home Subjects.

Very often the hair becomes thin and short, and yet it does not seem to come out at all. The secret of this condition is that the hair has become very dry, the oily nutrient does not extend the entire length of the hair shaft, and each little fiber becomes weak and broken, the touch of a brush or comb being sufficient to cause it to separate from the growth. The remedy is found in applying this tonic every night: Six grains of hydrochlorate of pilocarpine, four drams of tincture of jaborandi, two drams of spirits of rosemary and four ounces of alcohol. Twice a month shampoo the hair with eggs. Twenty-four hours before the shampoo rub warm olive oil into the scalp. Clipping or singeing the ends of the hair will assist the growth to renew itself.

Care of the Bath Sponge.

When the sponges need cleaning the best plan to cut the dirt is to soak them in vinegar for several hours and then run clear warm water through them until the acid is all out. They should then be hung in the sunshine, where they will air and dry. After each bath a sponge should be washed out with clean hot water and soap and rinsed with cold water, then put in a place where the air and sunshine surround it, for unless sponges are well aired they become sour and disagreeable to use.

Baked Bean Rarebit.

Baked bean rarebit hails, as one would naturally surmise, from New England. You warm up a cupful of cold baked beans in a couple of tablespoonsfuls of butter and season with salt and paprika. Then you stir in little by little half a cupful of milk, two-thirds of a cupful of soft American cheese broken into bits and a teaspoonful of Worcester sauce. When the cheese is melted, serve at once.

Case For Cards.

Playing cards get soiled if left loose, and the pasteboard cases in which they come soon become torn and useless. A little case fashioned after the pasteboard one and built of canvas or linen, with an edge of silk cord, makes a very convenient receptacle for them. A little handle at the top is an addition, and the word "Cards" embroidered on one side, in a contrasting color gives a pretty finish.

Cleaning Hairbrushes.

Spirits of ammonia is the best thing to clean hairbrushes with, as it does not soften the bristles like soap or soda. If a teaspoonful of ammonia is mixed with a quart of water the brush need only be dipped into the solution for a moment, and all grease is removed. The brush should be rinsed in cold water, shaken well and dried in the air, but not in the sun.

Care of the Eyes.

"Don't be careless of the eyes during cold weather. Bathe them frequently. Protect them from both wind and dust, particularly the latter, which I believe causes most of the inflamed eyeballs and swollen lids that are now so prevalent," says Dr. George Houston Bell, prominent oculist.

To Sterilize Milk.

To sterilize milk take bottles which are absolutely clean. Pour in fresh milk to the neck of each bottle and use plugs of cotton batting as stoppers. Place in a deep steamer or in a sterilizer and steam continuously for an hour and a half. Do not open until needed for use.

Sage Tea For the Hair.

Sage tea is a good tonic and one that will darken the hair. Make a strong brew of the dried leaves, strain the liquid carefully through muslin and to each pint add two teaspoonsfuls of alcohol. Rub this on the hair every night.

Remedy For Burns.

The white of an egg, beaten up with sweet oil and bicarbonate of soda, makes a very soothing application in the case of a severe burn. If sweet oil is not at hand, linseed or any other vegetable oil will do.

Cure For Soft Corns.

Twice every day dip a piece of cotton batting in olive oil and place over the soft corn. This removes all pain, and the corn peels off in scales.
